

PRESS RELEASE
August 21, 2009

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

If you missed Bridal Boot Camp II at the Centre at Arbor Connection last Saturday, then you missed a lot! The Douglasville Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) held the workshop to educate brides on the basic fundamentals of wedding planning and the resources Douglasville can provide.

The Centre at Arbor Connection was the host location and surprised many attendees and exceeded the expectations of most. One attendee stated, "I never knew such a large and beautiful facility existed in Douglasville." Thanks to our host facility Brides enjoyed a delicious sampling of food from Sam & Roscoe's.

The CVB's goal was to allow brides the opportunity to take away basic knowledge on planning weddings locally using local vendors and their services and make it easy for brides to plan their entire wedding.

After an informative presentation by Leslie Karrer from The Knot guests were treated to a fashion show by Brides Atlanta, which included 2010 fashions not yet in stores, making those in attendance the first to view the new line in bridal dresses and formal attire!

Brides also won many fabulous prizes including catering services, facility rental discounts, DJ services, spa packages, videography, photography, floral services, make-up baskets, wedding accessories, and even a free cruise! Plus, one lucky bride won a $500 VISA gift card from the Douglasville CVB; courtesy of vendor registration fees.

If you missed the Bridal Boot Camp series in 2009, don't worry. The Douglasville CVB hosts the Bridal workshop twice a year in order to show even more locations and to help those brides that are newly engaged. The 2010 series will focus on outdoor venues. The Cultural Arts Center will be the host location for the next workshop scheduled for Spring 2010. Please visit the CVB's website for dates, times and registration information.

The Georgia General Assembly established the Town of Douglasville on February 25, 1875. As a "New South" postbellum railroad town, Douglasville developed into a dominant commercial district and transformed from the little farming village of Skint Chestnut into a thriving town. Today, Douglasville boasts historic and natural attractions, shopping and culture, and casual and formal dining options, which are all the ingredients for a perfect weekend getaway.
